Acknowledgement is made of applicant's statement that claims 58, 65 and 76-80 read on the elected species of Figure 16. Due to the extensive amendment of the independent claims and the addition of new claims, a further election between subcombinations disclosed as useable in the disclosed combination is being required.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 76, drawn to a leveler having the first and second surfaces at different heights.
- II. Claim 77, drawn to a leveler having the upper surface configured for engagement with the vehicle wheel along the entire upper surface.
- III. Claim 78, drawn to a leveler having a restraint body comprised of discontinuous webbing.
- IV. Claim 79, drawn to a leveler having a positional restraint configured for adjustment of weight.
- V. Claim 80, drawn to a leveler having the wheel contact the positional restraint when the wheel is centered on the leveler assembly.

Claim 58 and 65 link(s) inventions I-V. The restriction requirement for the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claim 58 and 65. Upon the indication of allowability of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be rejoined and fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104 Claims that require all the limitations of an allowable linking claim will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Applicant(s) are advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, the allowable linking claim, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I-V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable.

For example, subcombination group I having different heights for the first and second surfaces need not have the entire upper surface configured for a wheel (as in group II) and instead could have only a portion of the upper surface configured for a wheel and therefor group I has separate utility. Conversely, subcombination group II having the entire upper surface configured for a wheel need not have different heights for the first and second surfaces (as in group I) and instead could have the same height for the first and second surfaces and therefor group II has separate utility. When comparing any two groups in this manner it can be shown that all groups have separate utility. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

For example the search for subcombination group I requires a separate text search and subclass search in class 14 that is not required for the other groups. The search for subcombination group II requires a separate text search and subclass search in class 188 that is not required for the other groups. Each group has its own unique and different search. To search all groups would be a burden for the Office.

- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
